WELCOME TO THE

22ND UPTOWN ARTS STROLL

in Washington HEIGHTS * INWOOD & WEST HARLEM

We are delighted to present NoMAA's 22nd Annual Uptown Arts Stroll/Paseo de las Artes! As this guide makes clear, there is no place more exciting and dynamic to visit in the month of June than West Harlem, Washington Heights and Inwood from West 125th Street to West 220th Street.

Congratulations to this year's poster contest winner, Jack Thompson, for his captivating design. We also wish to acknowledge our second and third prize winners, Sam Vassallo and David Kaminsky, for their wonderful submissions.

We invite you all to join us for the Arts Stroll Opening event, which will take place on May 31st from 7:00 - 9:00 pm at the glorious United Palace where we will honor our impressive slate of honorees while enjoying a night of art, music, dance, and food!

We wish to recognize all the artists and arts organizations represented in this guide for their work and creativity. We also thank our generous sponsors and partners who help bring the Stroll to life. Finally, we extend special thanks to our relentless board Chair, Luis A. Miranda, Jr. and our dedicated board members, Sandra García-Betancourt, Carol Jenkins, and Lenny Lazzarino.

Estamos muy contentos de presentar la 22^o edición del Uptown Arts Stroll/Paseo de las Artes de NoMAA! Como lo demuestra esta guía, no hay lugares más excitantes y dinámicos para visitar en el mes de junio que West Harlem, Washington Heights e Inwood desde West 125th Street hasta West 220th Street.

Felicitaciones al ganador del concurso de carteles de este año, Jack Thompson, por su cautivador diseño. También queremos agradecer a nuestros ganadores del segundo y tercer premio de carteles, Sam Vassallo y David Kaminsky, por sus maravillosas presentaciones.

Los invitamos a todos a unirse a nosotros en el evento de apertura del Arts Stroll, que se llevará a cabo el 31 de mayo de 7:00 a 9:00 p.m. en el glorioso United Palace, donde honraremos a nuestra impresionante lista de homenajeados mientras disfrutamos de una noche de arte, música, baile y comida.

Queremos reconocer a todos los artistas y organizaciones artísticas representados en esta guía por su labor y creatividad. También agradecemos a nuestros generosos patrocinadores y socios que ayudan a animar al Paseo. Finalmente, agradecemos especialmente a nuestro incansable presidente de la junta, Luis A. Miranda, Jr. y a nuestros dedicados miembros de la junta, Sandra García-Betancourt, Carol Jenkins y Lenny Lazzarino.

ZEAD RAMADAN A product of Washington Heights, Zead Ramadan has always advocated for the arts in his Northern Manhattan communities. Through his leadership and advocacy during his tenure as chair of WaHI Community Board 12 (2002-2004), the Uptown Arts Stroll was born. As the CB12 representative on the Upper Manhattan Empowerment Zone board of directors, he helped secure over $1.2M in funding leading to the creation of the umbrella arts organization to serve artists and arts groups, later known as the Northern Manhattan Arts Alliance (“NoMAA”) now in its 17th year. As NoMAA’s founding chairperson, Zead helped bring together a formerly disconnected arts scene; created grants opportunities for individual artists and arts organizations; helped open galleries; was awarded prestigious prizes from the National Endowment of the Arts and Union Square Arts; and assumed the management of the Uptown Arts Stroll, now in its 22nd year. Zead often says that he is most proud of the first resolution he passed as community board chair, which demanded that all tax-funded NYC maps include Washington Heights and Inwood, ensuring that our beautiful arts institutions were forever represented.

VERONICA SANTIAGO LIU is a writer, editor, bookseller, and arts organizer. She is a founder and the general coordinator of the 40-person collective that operates Word Up Community Bookshop/Librería Comunitaria, which started as a pop-up at the Uptown Arts Stroll 13 years ago, and Recirculation, which started 3.5 years ago as a community book and music space to honor a former Word Up collective member who passed away from COVID. Veronica has cofounded an online radio station and a micropress, and has received individual grants for writing, the development of an arts and music fair, a video series, and various publishing projects. She is currently an editor-at-large at Seven Stories Press, where she worked as managing then senior editor for more than a decade. Her writing, comics, and photography have been published in Broken Pencil, Mom Egg, Quick Fiction, In/Context, and other journals and zines.

RAFAELA GÓMEZ LUNA (AKA Rafaela Luna) is a Dominican-born multidisciplinary artist and educator. She moved to NYC in July 2012 with a bachelor’s degree in Advertising, Creativity and Management from The Autonomous University of Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic. She earned her master’s degree in Art Education from City College and holds a Certification in Cultural Management and Development, AEICID-CCE, and an Associate’s in Visual Arts from The National School of Fine Arts of Santo Domingo with a specialization in painting. In 2021, she earned an associate degree in Publicity Art from the Autonomous University of Santo Domingo where she was also a fellow recipient of the DEAR-CCCADI prize. In 2023, Luna served as a Mentor for the Immigrant Artist Program of New York Foundation for the Arts, NY sharing her experiences as an artist with the immigrant artist community.

SARINA PRABASI is a native of Nepal, spending her formative years in India, China, the United States and Ethiopia. In 2011 Sarina and husband Elias moved from Addis Ababa to Washington Heights, and founded Buunni Coffee. Prior to Buunni, Sarina had a career in international development, including serving as the CEO of WaterAid America, and Deputy Chief of Programs for Orbis International. Sarina’s memoir, The Coffeehouse Resistance, delves into the history of coffee houses as sites of community building and activism, and charts her family’s move from Ethiopia to New York. Sarina has served on the boards of the Specialty Coffee Association, the People’s Theatre Project, and Helvetas.

CAMILLE JOSEPH-GOLDMAN is the Group Vice President for Charter Communications, where she oversees government affairs in the northeastern United States from Harlem to Bangor, Maine. Previously, she worked in government for more than a decade, serving as U.S. Senator Kirsten Gillibrand’s Special Advisor & Director of Intergovernmental Affairs. She was appointed New York City’s youngest Deputy Comptroller for Public Affairs. Camille got her start in politics serving as a field organizer for then-Senator Barack Obama and later went on to become a Deputy Director on President Obama’s 2012 reelection campaign. Camille is deeply committed to the communities she works in and has the pleasure of proudly serving on the board of the National Action Network, Buffalo Niagara Partnership, The Lower Eastside Girls Club, Eleanor’s Legacy and as a trustee for the Citizen’s Budget Commission of New York City.

JAZZ POWER INITIATIVE is a community-based non-profit with the mission to transform lives through jazz music, arts education and performance. Located in Inwood since its founding in 2003, Jazz Power now serves thousands of New Yorkers and visitors annually - students, teachers, artists, seniors and general audiences, ages 6-80+. Led by its Managing and Artistic Director, co-founder Dr. Eli Yamin, Jazz Power’s multidisciplinary training and performance opportunities are provided to hundreds of New York City youth each year from every economic and social milieu at low or no cost to families, and in schools across Northern Manhattan. By centering African American, Caribbean and Latin American jazz music and artists throughout all its programming, Jazz Power Initiative connects with, and contributes to, a more vibrant and inclusive community for all.

HARLEM STAGE is the performing arts center that bridges Harlem’s cultural legacy to contemporary artists of color and dares to provide the artistic freedom that gives birth to new ideas. We stand proudly and fearlessly at the intersection of art and social justice. For 40 years our singular mission has been to perpetuate and celebrate the unique and diverse artistic legacy of Harlem and the indelible impression it has made on American culture. We provide opportunity, commissioning, and support for visionary artists of color, make performances easily accessible to all audiences and introduce children to the rich diversity, excitement, and inspiration of the performing arts. We fulfill our mission through commissioning, incubating, and presenting innovative and vital work that responds to the historical and contemporary conditions that shape our lives and the communities we serve. Our education programs serve over 2,300 New York City schoolchildren each year.

A sculptor & digital artist, Kahn utilizes technology in its successes & failures to analyze the complexity & poetics of capturing the human body in the digital age. Working from a 3D scan of musician & artist tiger west, Portrait of
t. brings the digital, private realm into the public through a glitched body scan cast in bronze. In conversation w/ the veteran & war monuments already extant at Riverside Park, Kahn highlights the importance of celebrating anonymous lives in the public sphere.

1. GEORGE WASHINGTON BRIDGE

One of the most spectacular bridges in the five boroughs—and one of the busiest bridges in the world—this two-story, 14-lane structure was opened in 1931, with a lower level added in 1962. Dubbed the GWB by commuters, this suspension bridge—where New Yorkers head to Jersey and vice versa over the Hudson River—is always chock-full o' cars, trucks, bikes and pedestrians.

Uno de los puentes más espectaculares de los cinco condados, y uno de los puentes más concurridos del mundo, esta estructura de dos pisos y 14 carriles se inauguró en 1931 y se agregó un nivel más bajo en 1962. Apodado GWB por los viajeros, este puente colgante, donde los neoyorquinos se dirigen a Jersey y viceversa sobre el río Hudson, siempre está repleto de autos, camiones, bicicletas y peatones.

4. J. HOOD WRIGHT PARK

J. Hood Wright Park is named for the former owner of the site: Wright (1836-1894), a wealthy banker and financier from Philadelphia, lived in a mansion at 175th Street and Haven Avenue. He made large anonymous contributions to what is now the Washington Heights Branch of the New York Public Library.

El parque lleva el nombre del antiguo dueño del sitio, J. Hood Wright (1836-1894), un banquero, financiero y filántropo nacido en Filadelfia, que vivía en una mansión en 175th Street y Haven Avenue.
